A Good King Dying.
Cook Stove Slavery.
They Want to Fight.
To Protect U. S. Oil.

DEEP SORROW in Britain.
The King, unconscious all of yesterday, seems to have little chance of recovery, his eldest son, coming in haste from his work for the Empire to Africa, arrived in time to see his father in a slight rally and to be recognized by the King whose place he will eventually take.

The world's sympathy is with the British people, and with King George, a good father, a good citizen of the British Empire, obedient to law, devoted to his duty.

When it was suggested a long ago, that big apartment houses should contain many families, with one central heating plant, and water supply, and sewerage, and garbage disposal, and a good citizen of the British Empire, obedient to law, devoted to his duty.

Now it is suggested that millions of women, tied to cooking stoves, should be set free from that drudgery. Community kitchens, cooking food properly, and distributing it, would deliver food at the home.

A good suggestion. It would enable women to use their brains for thinking, instead of working.

The idea isn't entirely new. Those engaged in manufacturing prepared foods, break up foods, soups, preserved fruit and other products, help to maintain "kitchen slavery."

Paraguay and Bolivia think they want to fight because a boundary dispute killed 25 men. The remedy suggested is to start a war and kill 25,000 more men.

The war threat comes at an awkward time, when the United States is preparing to go to the aid of the Allies.

"Recovery is brisk" were the words from Wall Street yesterday when the market stopped tickling, and the worried speculators took their heads back home feeling better.

Mr. Axel Bylin, head of the Y. M. C. A., is a cheerful donor to the Y. M. C. A. Metropolitan Club with its crickets, Paul Shoup and Herbert Hainbacher, from California, talked cheerfully about the situation.

President Coolidge has received the waiting of oil in the country. Herbert Hoover has said a plan to protect the oil in the country.

Reckless exportation at the lowest possible price, benefiting foreigners and depleting our oil reserves might eventually be required.

Scotchmen of the country discover with grief and surprise that their presidential candidate, James Buchanan, pulled only 200,000 votes, against more than 10,000,000 for Governor Smith and 10,000,000 for Herbert Hoover.

More worry for the criminal. The steamship Argonauta, 60 miles at sea, received by wireless, photographs from Danvers, England.

SOCIETY TRIAL SETTLED OUT OF COURT

The legal battle between Mrs. Bonney L. Dunbar, Newton society woman, and Philip R. Dunbar, Boston attorney, for custody of their eight-year-old son, Bruce, ended abruptly today when a settlement was effected.

Terms of the settlement, effected following the dramatic termination of the trial with Mrs. Dunbar appearing, in an unfinished sentence, in an affidavit, were not made public. It is understood they will be announced later.

The settlement was as theatrical as the conclusion of the testimony, and undoubtedly resulted from the action taken by Mrs. Dunbar over the threatened protest of her counsel, Attorney Harold P. Williams, Jr.

It was announced by Judge Collier Campbell, presiding at the trial, on his arrival at Middlesex Probate Court about 10:30. He stated that the agreement was reached in the Boston office of former Judge Fred Ellis H. Chase, counsel for Dunbar.

The trial was scheduled to resume today, with Mrs. Dunbar again on the stand, while Judge Chase continued his cross-examination, abruptly terminated by Judge Campbell last week when he brought the session to a close.

Court was well filled at the opening hour, and court officers had no reason to believe the trial would not continue until a sensational message was received from Judge Campbell with the principals and counsel, conferring on the question of settlement.

ALKY CONTENT UNDER LIMIT; TWO FREED

The bold, had "in-the-know" Bostonians who have gin cocktails and red wines with their meals in at least one Back Bay restaurant aren't flouting Mr. Volstead very flagrantly, after all, according to reports made today to Municipal Court by the office of the state chemist.

The "wines" seized by police in the case had an alcoholic content of only 2.3 per cent., said the analyst. The "gin" was "water and juniper juice" with an alcoholic content of 1.66 per cent.

Newspapers, state law defines an "intoxicating" only liquor with an alcoholic content of more than 2.35 per cent.

After the establishment of the millages of the beverages offered in evidence, Judge Flood promptly freed two defendants, a restaurant manager and waiter, respectively, who were charged with selling liquor and with keeping and exposing liquor for sale.

Sergeant William McKenna and Paul Robert Henry LeClerc of headquarters, who in plain clothes, paid good money for the "wines" and "gin" upon which they based their prosecution, asked Judge Flood to let them offer in evidence a report from a private chemist.

The latter, they said, had found the wine to have an alcoholic content of more than 15 percent. Their request was refused by the court. The defendants were Corrado Boggio and Sabio Ferro, both of Roxbury.

BURRILL PUTS POSTAL ROW UP TO COOLIDGE

Jumping into the controversy over the Boston postmaster's former state Treasurer Charles L. Burrill, today, in a letter to President Coolidge, urged the chief executive to direct a civil service examination for the position "free from all dictation."

He scored the "thoughtless political friends" of the President who would have "impaled you on the horns of a painful dilemma."

"Had they been prudent they would have refrained from putting in public the names of their favorite until they learned whether or not executive approval and appointment to the Senate would have followed their visit to the White House," the letter read in part.

"It is announced that a civil service examination will be held for the selection of a postmaster and it is openly boasted in advance that a certain applicant is to be appointed. A fine tribute to our civil service!"

OFFICER SAVES AGED COUPLE IN MEDFORD

With flame and smoke all about them, James Clark, 72, and his wife, Martha, 68, were snatched from death early today during a fire in their home, 9 Henry st., Medford.

Both were burned before rescue, however, and it is feared at the Lawrence Memorial hospital that Clark will die.

Another occupant of the house, Mrs. Anna Danahoe, 38, died in safety. Her screams, as she stood on the front steps, saved the lives of the elderly Clark couple.

Charles H. Hendricksen, Metropolitan police officer, and Michael Collins, whose homes adjoin the Clark home, were awakened by the screams. They rushed out and Hendricksen, driving back from the front door, went to the rear, climbed to the rear ell and reached the Clark bedroom.

He passed Mrs. Clark out first, pressing her into the arms of Collins, and duplicated the feat with the almost unconscious form of the husband.

Both were taken to the hospital, where the name of Clark was placed on the danger list. His wife's burns were not serious. He suffered severe burns of the body.

Firemen extinguished the flames after a stiff battle. Half an hour after they had left, the fire broke out again and they were forced to re-enter a second time.

The fire is believed to have started in a hallway near the kitchen from matches in Clark's pocket.

RAP MAYOR ON HARBOR TUBE
Mayor Nichols' stand on the East Boston traffic tunnel project was sharply qualified today by Rep. William H. Hearn of East Boston at the reopening of the Boston City Council's tunnel committee hearing.

"If the mayor had taken the trouble to read the tunnel bill correctly, he would not have blundered at it," he said. "The statute would not rob Boston of its highway jurisdiction and would not prevent the building of the tunnel by the Boston transit commission on a day labor basis."

Television Movies for Theater Chain
New York, Dec. 12 (INS)—Negotiations are under way, it was announced today, between the Jenkins Television Corporation and the executives of a large movie chain for the privilege of broadcasting movies by television directly to the screens of theaters.

The Jenkins Co. was recently organized for the manufacture of television receivers and transmitters for the home. It is expected these sets will be placed on the market within three months.

BOSTON AMERICAN SHE HAS WOMAN ARRESTED

While an East Boston woman, arrested today for alleged passing of a counterfeit $10 bill, was being given a hearing, United States Commissioner Jenney interrupted the proceedings to rebuke a woman social service worker for, as he said, signing the defendant what answers to make.

The woman under arrest was Mrs. Mary Cavaretta of Locust st., and the social service worker was Mrs. Margaret Melton of Belmont st., Newton, wife of a minister.

Mrs. Cavaretta was arrested by secret service agents following complaint by Mrs. Edith Chapman, owner of a Bennington st. dress shop, who, according to the agents, was very eager to detect the alleged spurious note, which was described as an excellent imitation.

In the midst of the hearing Commissioner Jenney pointed out a woman among the spectators and asked defendant's counsel if he knew her. The commissioner was informed it was Mrs. Melton, a social worker.

"I wanted to know because she had, by nodding her head, instructed Mrs. Cavaretta what to answer when she was asked what to say," said Commissioner Jenney.

Mrs. Melton was later called to the stand and said she was a friend of the defendant, for whose good character she vouched.

CHARGES COUNTERFEIT BILL PASSED
Mrs. Edith Chapman of East Boston, who had Mrs. Mary Cavaretta arrested on a charge of passing a counterfeit $10 bill in her shop, Mrs. Cavaretta was given a hearing before the U. S. commissioner.

Married People Should Shun Bridge, Says Judge
Chicago, Dec. 12 (AP)—"Bridges are for single persons and should be left alone by married couples," Judge William N. Gonnill announced just after he had heard testimony that Gerald C. Wood, insurance broker and graduate of Dartmouth, had been cruel to his wife because she had made him play when playing bridge with him.

Mrs. Wood, daughter of Wilbur M. Kelso, president of the Green Oil Soap Company, testified they were married June 13, 1927.

"On Feb. 20, I doubled a four diamond bid and the opponent took it to be tricks. Mr. Wood, because my double cost as a game, flew into a rage and struck me."

"On February 21, I trumped his original one bid. Mr. Wood didn't wait to see why I had made the bid."

PASTOR'S WIFE IS REBKED AT TRIAL

William J. ("Big Bill") Kellher took the stand in his own defense today in Superior Court at the trial of himself, John Duffey and William P. Connolly, charged with conspiracy to steal and larceny.

Kellher first witness for the defense, denied taking part in any conspiracy, but he refused to testify as to what business he now is engaged in, on the grounds that he could not incriminate himself.

The defendant said that on the occasion of the first meeting with Harry L. Lind, Boston contractor, and one of the accused in the case, Lind asked him to get Lind five cases of "honest-to-God Scotch."

Kellher refused, he said, because he was not a bootlegger. Then Lind, according to the defendant, broached the subject of money and asked Kellher how much he could lay his hands on a large loan, as stockholders in one of Lind's propositions "were beginning to bark."

"He invited me to his office," said Kellher. "I told him I knew a fellow that I met at Leavenworth that had cleaned up. We talked about money and Lind told me that he wouldn't do anything right away because he was afraid of the federal government; that they would put him in the cooler for accepting money without taxation."

PRINCESS WEDS NEW YORK MAN
Chichester, England, Dec. 12 (AP)—Princess Marie Louise of Orleans was married at noon today to W. P. Kingsland, son of Walter Kingsland of New York. The wedding took place in St. Richard's Roman Catholic church.

The wedding of the Princess, whose parents, the Duke and Duchess of Vendome, are descendants of kings of France, attracted a large crowd of guests.

The Duke of Vendome, who is 31 in Switzerland, and the duchess were represented by a number of the families and close friends.

Interest in the romance was stimulated by the fact that although the bride has lived at a cottage not far from the castle for more than a year, few people here had seen her or her future husband.

The bride was a study in brown. She wore a brown dress and a brown cloth coat trimmed with fur. Her hair also was brown. She wore three ropes of pearls and a large spray on nautilus orchids.

After the bridegroom had repeated the words, "I take thee, Marie Louise, Princess of Orleans, to be my wedded wife," an old French soldier and gold ring which had been passed down through the royal families of France was placed on the bride's finger.

The couple motored to London, where the first night of their honeymoon will be spent.

Boy Trapper Drowns In Epilepsy Attack

Worcester, Dec. 11 (AP)—A boy, ten years of age, who had been attacked by epilepsy while he was walking along the banks of the river, is believed to have been drowned today in the water of the river. He was found by his brother, Charles, 17, who knew his brother had been attacked by epilepsy, and he was found floating in the water.

LITHUANIA AND POLAND IN NEW 'WAR' THREATS

Luzern, Switz., Dec. 12 (AP)—The Polish-Lithuanian controversy again came before the Council of the League of Nations today, the representatives of each nation charging the other with obstructing solution of their difficulties.

Former Valdemar of Lithuania, confuted up a picture of Poland as a "black and white" nation, and Lithuania either would get back Vlna and be independent, or lose everything else by acts similar to the military actions of that city by the Polish general, Jozef Pilsudski.

Foreign Minister Zaleski of Poland replied that the recent Koenigsberg conference, as well as other efforts at reconciliation had failed because Lithuania was pursuing a policy of passive resistance. This, he declared, was what was preventing that good understanding upon which peace depends.

Zaleski urged the council to apply the provisional plan outlined in the council resolution of last September calling for the appointment of experts to investigate the entire dispute.

The Polish foreign minister sought to sweep away the specter raised by Valdemar by solemnly declaring that Poland would never seek to subvert her frontiers and that her entire policy was based on peace and settling treaties.

French Senator N. Y. Stock Victim

Paris, Dec. 11 (AP)—Laurin Klotz, former Minister of Finance in the Clemenceau wartime cabinet, resigned his membership in the French Senate today.

M. Klotz was the subject of charges filed by the public prosecutor two days ago to the effect he had issued bank checks without sufficient funds to meet them. This is a criminal offense in France and the prosecutor asked the Senate to deprive Klotz of his parliamentary immunity from arrest.

The former minister has been in patient in a sanatorium and his friends said his collapse was due to a heart ailment. He was the owner of a famous perfume establishment.

The domestic help problem is being taken a step further by the fact that the Senate today passed a law which will allow employers to hire foreign labor.

U. S. TRES TO PACIFY TWO NATIONS

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—The delivery minister advised Secretary Kellogg today that his country would continue to participate in the Pan-American Conference on Arbitration and Conciliation in Buenos Aires.

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—Overnight efforts of the State Department to facilitate settlement of the Bolivia-Paraguay dispute were disclosed today with the information that American Minister Kaufman in La Paz had been instructed to urge the Bolivian Government to accept the Pan-American conference "any day."

It developed today that Secretary Kellogg, who is chairman of the conference, sent instructions late last night to Minister Kaufman after conversation with Minister De Medina of Bolivia. Mr. Kaufman was asked to represent the country for best interests could not be served by its absence from the Pan-American Conference and to urge upon the La Paz administration that it alter its attitude toward the offers of conciliation in its boundary dispute.

Quick Action Saves Hub Flier in Air

Charles J. Payne of Brooklyn, student pilot of the Eastern Airplane Corporation, with only six hours' solo flying to his credit, saved himself from disaster today when the slowing down of his motor forced him to land down wind. Flying an OXK motorized Traveler, Payne had taken off on the north and south runway at the airport, headed toward Wood Lane street, reaching an altitude of about 75 feet when the engine "revved" down and the water pump failed to start and landed down wind behind the hangar, bounding into a ditch, in which the same ship came to rest two months ago. The only damage was broken undercarriage and propeller.

G. H. Taylor, Gould Manager, Dies at 68

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—George H. Taylor, 68, prominent in athletics since 1910, died of heart disease. He was a manager of the New York Yankees and a former member of the Board of Directors of the New York City Club. Taylor had been in charge of the Frank J. Gould properties in this country since 1910. He was vice-president of the Virginia Railway & Power Company and for four years was secretary of the Union League Club, and held membership in the Royal Yacht Club, London, and New York Yacht Club.

Volunteers Start Gift Fund Drive

The Volunteers of America opened their campaign for funds to purchase Christmas gifts for needy boys and girls today when more than 25 collectors took up positions at entrances to stores, subways and public buildings.

In some cases the funds will go for quilts for needy elderly persons and baskets for invalid children. The organization hopes to take care of more than 2000 children and 200 adults.

"Volunteers of America" is truly spoken of as a lot of little-minded men.

Bake Germs to Death in Latest Disease Cure

San Francisco, Dec. 12 (AP)—Possibility of combating certain diseases by increasing body temperature through mechanical means, causing bacteria to die from the heat generated, was given impetus in medical circles here as the result of a case reported at the University of California Medical School.

In an official report, Dr. Harold M. H. Schramm, assistant at the school, declared a patient recovered from a skin disease after developing a temperature of 103.6 degrees.

The announcement said this temperature was "higher than other authentic cases recorded in print."

Dr. Schramm and two other physicians concluded the excessive heat of the body had "killed to death" the bacteria causing skin trouble.

Dr. Schramm said many kinds of bacteria die in temperatures slightly above that of the normal human body. He said he believed 110.6 degrees was "one of the highest temperatures compatible with life."

PLANS ACTION BY CONGRESS IN DOPE EVIL

Washington, Dec. 12 (AP)—Disclosure of a vast international "dope" smuggling scheme in the United States has spread alarm in Congress, with the result today that legislative action is being taken to check the drug evil in the nation.

Representative Stephen Porter (R.) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, indicated that he was preparing to seek congressional action to halt violations of the Hague opium treaty by European nations.

Additional appropriations for federal enforcement were demanded by Representative Fish (R.) of New York. Representative Black (D.) of New York proposed new authority for the purchase of evidence against smugglers.

Senator Deneen (R.) of Illinois, chairman of a Senate sub-committee, was said to be preparing a report urging passage of the Porter bill providing concrete federal penalties for drug addicts.

Returning from a personal investigation into the Rotterdam case in New York, Representative Porter declared that the evidence there has forged another link in a long chain of circumstances pointing to the flagrant violation of the Hague opium convention by one or more European nations.

"My activities in this case are heading up to positive action in the near future," Porter emphatically declared.

Although declining to divulge the probable course of action, he said that it would be congressional.

Porter pointed out that Secretary of State Kellogg had instructed American diplomatic representatives to induce foreign countries to carry out the Hague opium convention, which pledged them to abstain from manufacture of narcotics to medicinal needs.

All European nations were urged to enact laws to carry out the agreement.

"It is perfectly obvious that they have violated this treaty by failing to enforce its provisions, with the result that the drug evil is spreading throughout the world," Porter said.

In the last few years he has taken out 86 patents for improvements on looms and mill machinery, all of which improvements have since been installed on thousands of machines throughout the world.

The aged inventor has a son, Dr. William F. Hutchinson, and two sons in Worcester, Charles and Richard Hutchinson.

Uncle Sam's Soda Spa Bill Billion and Half a Year

Chicago, Dec. 12 (AP)—America, here in your annual soda fountain bill:

Ice cream sodas, $200,000,000.

Pumpkin lunces, $200,000,000.

Confederates, $200,000,000.

Total—$1,500,000,000.

That is the amount spent every year on the 100,000 soda fountains in this country, the annual convention of the industry was formed today by M. H. Kauer, representing a large fountain manufacturer. The fountain form a $200,000,000 investment, he said, bringing a return of $4,000,000 in each day's trade.

territorial rights, defense funds and financial backing were operating in this country with Robinson as the money provider. It is believed that the three men were associated with the master gambler in this venture.

It was said at the district attorney's office that the latest revelations had thrown considerable light on Robinson's dealings with individuals in this city and that additional arrests might be expected soon.

Slender clues in the Robinson murder inquiry pointed out. The testimony of Leo Maloney, alleged associate of Robinson, who was brought here from Atlantic City, was being heard today in the court.

Robinson was regarded as worthless in view of his later assertion that he was drunk at the time his statement was made.

The contents of a mysterious trunk found in the Park Central were said to be "very disappointing," when examined by investigators. It had been predicted that important clues would be found in the trunk.

G. F. HUTCHINS, INVENTOR, DIES

Worcester, Dec. 12—George Francis Hutchins, 80-year-old inventor and a Civil War veteran, died today at his home, 20 Ripley st.

Up to last year he was superintendent of the Crompton & Knowles Loom Works, where he perfected many of his inventions.

In the last few years he had taken out 86 patents for improvements on looms and mill machinery, all of which improvements have since been installed on thousands of machines throughout the world.

The aged inventor has a son, Dr. William F. Hutchinson, and two sons in Worcester, Charles and Richard Hutchinson.

Mussolini Helps Stork Pay for His Tickets

Rome, Dec. 12 (AP)—Premier Mussolini's latest move in his campaign for a higher Italian birthrate has been to contribute $10,000 for giving special recognition to large families in Rome.

The P. m. i., a letter to the Gazzetta Ufficiale, says that the sum should be divided into 40 prizes of $250 each.

"This lot is an aid, because the sum is too small for that, but it is a moral recognition," the P. m. i. writes. "More than aiding, you wish by your initiative to house large families and to set them up as an example to others—voluntarily childless—helping particularly to the so-called superior classes, more rich and more virtuous."

"Without these prolific poor families, the cradle of the nation's future would already have reached an extreme old age."

"There are many dangerous things going on the face of the earth; from the Brazil flag to the material fly, but one supposes them all—imbecile optimism."

KANSAS 'CARRIE' NATION WINS POLICE AID

Kansas City, Dec. 12 (AP)—From a sick bed today Mrs. Maude Wilson viewed with satisfaction the far-reaching results of her recent arrest with a hatchet upon a neighborhood saloon, where she asserted liquor had been dispensed to her husband and 13-year-old daughter.

The law-day Carrie Nation was suffering from nervous illness, due to the excitement and publicity and following her arrest last Monday she believed she had surpassed her goal. The saloon, in which she left a broad trail of broken glass, was now gone out of business and the building was for rent.

Furthermore, she now believes she will get action from federal and city prohibition forces from whom she said she was unable to get any response before she took matters into her own hands.

Mrs. Wilson, her husband and daughter have been ordered to appear before the county grand jury next week to testify regarding the saloon activities and Mrs. Wilson's charges that she saw policemen enter and loiter about the place.

Investigators from the prosecutor's office included into the reported sale of 200 bottles of liquor at the saloon. Mrs. Wilson declared that "finger" should be put on the liquor, had given her a half pint of corn liquor.

Meanwhile the storm of charges and counter charges that broke between the federal and local authorities and the prosecutor's office resulting responsibility for the "finger" saloon, alleged curfew, liquor selling here continued in full force.

Ware Competition Split Among Three
R. T. Anderson and R. G. Gully, both of Harvard, and a student from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, caused the judges of the Ware Competition prize, considerable difficulty in awarding the annual prize for the best architectural drawing.

The competition was open to students from Technology, Harvard and Boston Architectural School, and contestants were required to submit designs and sketches of a recreation center for an industrial center. In the past, the award of a first and second prize of $50 and $25 respectively were made, but on account of the three contributions being equally good, the judges decided to split the prize money equally each one receiving $25.

BATTLE FIRE ON LUCKENBACH

San Francisco, Dec. 12 (GN)—A fire in the hold of the steamer Amador today after a stubborn battle which lasted several hours. A large amount of the cargo was damaged by water. Stevedores succeeded in removing class of cargoes.

The fire is thought to have started from spontaneous combustion and quickly spread to a hold containing hundreds of cases of matches.

The Amador Luckenbach is one of the largest freighters in the American merchant marine and operates between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts.

A fire needs a home. Here you a garage for rent. Tell about it and give location to the West End Ad. That's the way to fill it.

DETAINED CASES CLOG BOSTON COURTS

A jammed courthouse may make it necessary to seek extra quarters in an outside building. It was declared by William F. Donovan, clerk of municipal court, today, in an announcing there are 250 cases on the docket yet to be heard—and more pouring in every day.

The same situation, an investigation revealed, exists in the upper courts, where every available room is being utilized, making it necessary for the Grand Jury to sit in the library of the district attorney's office.

Corridors of the second and third floors of the courthouse, court house are so congested by attorneys and witnesses that it is nearly impossible to transact business.

In Superior Court 250 cases are in order for jury trials and the session without further, and the equity court division has 250 cases ready to be heard. Six judges in the criminal division and Superior court are trying to dispose of a record number of cases during the month.

The special commission created by the board to study the need for additional accommodations for the courts and the courts will be in order for jury trials at the State House tomorrow at 2 o'clock. The commission consists of former Attorney General A. Wyman, sheriff John A. Kellier and Joseph T. Lavin.

SEIZE $50,000 IN RUM RAID

A fusillade of shots was fired early today by Coast Guards off Mattapoisett in Buzzards Bay before they captured a Watertown-owned speed boat and seized the largest quantity of cargo taken in nearly two years.

Two men were arrested but a third escaped in the speedboat's dinghy with 400 cases and all about him.

The liquor, believed to be destined for the Christmas holiday trade, was in 400 cases and is valued at $50,000. It was labeled Old Baltimore Rye Whiskey.

The two men captured on the speedboat gave names as George O'Neill and William Brown. They were brought to Boston for arraignment in federal court tomorrow and the seized cargo will be transferred to the Rye Island.

According to records at the Boston customs house, the vessel, the Crab, formerly the Trump of New Bedford, is registered under the ownership of Henry Levey of Pleasant at Watertown.

At the Levey home his wife admitted her husband owned a speedboat, but said he had owned last summer at Chatham to fishermen.

Levey, 28, said, was in Charlestown, N. H.

Urges Group Action On Maine Farmers
Augusta, Me., Dec. 12 (GN)—Maine's agricultural production was increasing in value, Clarence C. Stinson, chairman of the Maine Development Commission, today urged the delegates to the annual meeting of the State Grange to adopt group action.

He referred to the action of potato growers of the State, who formulated a program, engineering it, remedy for the "amateur" situation in the industry which he said was due to over-production and poor marketing methods. Speaking of the condition of the western farmers in eastern markets, Stinson declared "Maine farmers should be prepared to meet this competition. To do this they should become greater students of the problems of production and marketing."

Police See Revenge In Slaying of Widow
Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 12 (GN)—Police believe Arthur Leonard, 22, held in connection with the murder of his father-in-law, Mrs. Samuel Jones, 62, of Tonawanda, Pa., killed her because she had sent to a reformatory for stealing chickens.

Mrs. Jones' son, Burton Jones, came to Buffalo and positively identified Leonard in the Erie County Jail.

Leonard was arrested in the railroad yards and sentenced to the penitentiary for carrying a concealed weapon. He recently was released from a reformatory where he served a sentence for stealing chickens from Mrs. Jones, who raised him.

"Santa" Leaves Ale In Farmer's Barn
St. Albans, Vt., Dec. 12 (GN)—When Frank Dink, owner of a farm at Hubbard, went out to his barn he thought Santa Claus had made an unannounced visit. The floor was beset high with packages and investigation disclosed 104 bottles of Christmas ale, apparently a gift to a consumer-stricken rum-runner. Dink said he had been told by a neighbor that they had confiscated the ale.

HUB MATRONS WORK FOR CHARITY, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Theater Guild Evenings to Assist Free Hospital for Women

FOR ECLAT AND BRILLIANCE, SOCIAL SUPREMACY AND lucrative financial returns there's nothing in the town's entire list of "benefit" quite so flashily brilliant and top notch in every way as the Theater Guild's evening does for the Free Hospital for Women. The series of "evenings" sells on seriously with Mrs. Gelston T. King and Mrs. William Dana Orcutt at the helm and a willing band of able first mates to assist them. Smiles wreath the countenances of every one of the committee—and there's not the least tincture of that haggard air many matrons develop when benefits are to be staged and the battle for dollars waged.

DOLLARS COME ROLLING IN AS SUBSCRIPTIONS PILE UP. Next Tuesday the Helios Street Theater will flame into brilliancy a scented jewel box as the smart world of up-to-date entertainment rustles in, jeweled and fine lissed. Long prior to the grand opera season the quality of the town, looking for all the world like a grand opera audience, come out en masse to make a gala evening of the philanthropic benefit. Time was when the quality engaged its orchestra places and ignored the balcony; but not this winter.

THEATER GUILD EVENINGS HAVE CHANGED THAT WELL defined custom. Mrs. Orcutt and her ingenious confederates find themselves at the enviable point of having an orchestra almost "sold out" and with subscriptions to fill turn to the balcony. And imbue that elevated semicircle with an air as "smart" as the orchestra. Sweep the balcony with your loggias on Tuesday evening, and you'll find there all the "Younger Marrieds," those fashionable folk of the younger who make radiant the balcony with the same grand opera atmosphere of fine scents and fine lissas as pervades the orchestra stalls.

YOUR LOGNETTE WILL DISCOVER SUCH NOTABLES AS Mrs. Hendricks Hallet Whitman entertaining in the balcony. Mrs. Joseph W. Woods and Mrs. Woods will be somewhere in the first three rows that are specially reserved. The Charles R. C. Codman, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Salmonstall, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Salmonstall, Mr. and Mrs. George Lyman, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Codman, at center, at center, go to make up the casters who individually is interesting and collectively is decorative and that prefers balcony to orchestra places for these benefits.

AND SPEAKING OF SMILE-WREATHED COUNTENANCES—IT was a great deal of foresight allied with splendid planning that now brings these same smiles to the faces of hospital benefit promoters. Plans were laid long, long ago, way back in the summer, and carried to fruition this autumn so smoothly and successfully the marvel of it is that other committees do not take a leaf from the book and do like this. Of course, the Guild is itself in an attraction of stellar luminosity equal to putting any benefit in the success class. A patroness list was compiled that fairly sparkled with names imposing and interesting.

MISS LOUISE FESSENDEN

Society girl does many things well. She wears a fancy costume prettily, as in this photo. She shines as a Young Set personage and next Friday she is a dinner hostess before the dance at the Algonquin Club, that promises to match the "Bachelors" hall for brilliance and chic.

Dollars Come Rolling in, as Requests for Reservations Pile Up

BE SIDES MRS. KING, WHOSE TELEPHONE GOES TINGLING every morning as she makes benefit reservations, and Mrs. Orcutt, the committee includes such socially important matrons as Mesdames B. H. Bristow Draper, F. L. W. Richardson, Frederick S. Converse, Theodore Frothingham, Jr., Channing M. Wells, William Whitman, Joseph W. Woods, G. Richmond Fearing, Jr., and G. Richmond Fearing, Sr., a set that knows its way about in the field of benefits—having more than one such to its credit.

THE GUILD ITSELF ASKS INTEREST TO INTEREST BY varying its usual way. For the first time it does a premiere outside New York. So on Monday Boston's shown a marked favor and may pass on the sophistication of Silver's brilliant Viennese comedy even before Broadway has that inestimable privilege. And to still further insure dollars rolling into the hospital's strong box, Mrs. Orcutt hosted herself, most successfully, with arranging a stuning program, one that deluged the eyes with its beauty and enriched the benefit fund by several thousands of dollars.

OF COURSE SUCH FASHIONABLE OCCASIONS AVE THEIR attending hospitalities. Special box parties are being arranged and something in the way of a tea, a luncheon or a dinner, perhaps an after theater supper, may be crowded into the over-full schedule of the leading players of the "Caprice" company will find cards awaiting them for functions to vary the round of theatrical appearances and almost continuous rehearsals. And just now Miss Theresa Helburn is in Boston in the interests of the Guild, and will speak before the Twentieth Century Club, the College Club and the "47" Club.

THE DEBUTANTE WHIRLS THROUGH HER WEEK, TRIPPING the light fantastic in gilded ballrooms. With undiminished ardor she awaits the late hours of this evening, and the brilliant coming out ball Dr. and Mrs. Elsie Flagg have arranged for their daughter, Miss Mary Flagg. The young set will dance in a beautifully decorated ballroom at the Hotel Somerset, after it has dined sumptuously as guests of smart hostesses. The dinner list is a criterion of the ball's status in the affairs debutantes—at the very top of the golden scale.

MOST IMPORTANT OF ALL IS MISS FRANCES LEE HOOGLINSON'S large dinner at the Chilton Club for Miss Flagg—when smart and important debutantes and their dance partners gather about the board. Miss Flagg comes to her presentation winter finely "polished" and schooled for the brilliant ordeal as long residence and schooling abroad accomplishes that desirable state for the jeune fille. Pater and mater and sub-debutante daughters have lived abroad almost indefinitely—and set the important "coming out" date long ago—December 31 on this debutante calendar has been dedicated to Miss Flagg for nearly two years.

Bank President Quits to Have a Little Fun

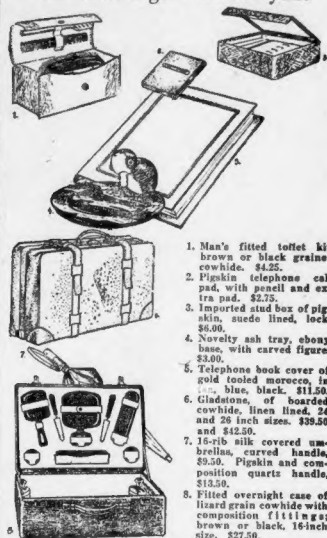

Buffalo, Dec. 12 (AP)—Edward A. Dancy, who went to work at the age of 19 and missed a lot of play as a boy, vowed that when he had money enough he would enjoy himself. And so at 59 he has resigned as president of the Community National Bank. He says he is as far from a millionaire, but has enough for any man of same taste.

Mrs. Coolidge's Mother Weaker

Northampton, Dec. 12—For one year, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge's mother, Mrs. Letitia Barron Coolidge, has been a patient in the County-Dickinson Hospital. Her physician, Dr. J. S. Hayes, stated that although there has been no immediate change in the patient's condition, the elderly woman had grown weaker during the past three months.

PEOPLE'S UNION NEW DEVICES TO IN CONCERT

By MOSES SMITH

The People's Union of Boston, led by James R. Houghton, gave its first concert of the season in Jordan Hall. Four choral arrangements of folk-songs opened the program. Later there were solo songs, and for the final time, Schubert's melodious "Miriam's Song of Triumph." Mrs. Warren Leadbetter, soprano, was soloist, and she sang in addition two groups of short numbers. Miss Leadbetter sang her difficult part very well on the purely vocal side, but her interpretation was rather restricted, partly because she was unaided by the printed page before her. Previously, in three Schubert songs, she had used evidence of an excellent voice and considerable feeling for the music of the song. But it was in a pair of modern ditties and Miss Leadbetter's rendition that she was heard at her best.

The assembly of these special aërological units to be used in the selection of a suitable lighter-than-air base on the west coast was reported as one of the achievements of the year.

A cinematograph, or static storm recorder, has been perfected, and completion of an air sounding pistol is expected next year. A new type of zero compass was also developed, and of which are to be completed during the next six months. Flight experiments with the indicator compass have also been carried on.

Her Beauty drove men Mad!

Read the vivid, true story of this beautiful girl—who lived in the grip of two men's passion while her heart called out to a man she had never seen!

"YOU are too beautiful to live, Clarice... you drive me mad!" Yes—and with a madness that at 16 sent her into the world an outcast—charitably married to a half-crazy brute! Married to him, because he would drag her from the shadow of one still worse!

Thus the amazing, true story of this girl's life begins—a story of romantic beauty, and the beast that lurked in two men's hearts...

Where—oh, where was there a man? Where was the man she had dreamed of when she listened to a coward's love, the man she had despised of when she married that terrible Sweeney?

In a far-off mining camp each day dragged by like some poor wounded animal... Each night brought that dreaded return, the heavy tread and leering face of the brute whose property she was. Sometimes he came home drunk. Yet how unconquerable her beauty was! Living on, perhaps, for the man she had never seen, the man who could truly find her heart.

Then sudden as lightning the crisis of her life! That fateful night when he returned, maddened by drink, half-crazed by jealousy...

But you must read this tremendous story—read it in the daring, vivid words of the girl whose own true story it is. An amazing drama of bitterness and tragedy and love that will hold you breathless to the end—and this is but a glimpse. SIX NEW YORK CLUBS RAIDED BY 'DRYS'

New York, Dec. 12 (AP)—Continuing a cleanup started earlier yesterday, when five places were raided, federal prohibition agents and city police early today raided six more clubs and alleged speakeasies and arrested eight persons.

The places raided are the Pastime Club in West 44th st., the New Cap Club in West 52d st., the R. R. Club in West 118th st., an alleged speakeasy in West 49th st., and the Tavern and the Colby Club in West 141st st. The last two places are in the Greenwich Village section.

City detectives who made the raid on the Pastime Club and the Tavern arrested three men for possession of Roper.

WIFE'S DEATH AS HE TAKES NEW BRIDE

The girl of the common law claim is 26, a resident of New York and styled herself Mrs. Ned H. Jakob, for Dorothy Hewitt Jakob, if you prefer.

Unable to find the producer to serve papers in a suit for separate support, she sought the aid of a Boston attorney, Mr. Thomas H. Walsh, today, while Jakob and his mistress who bride enjoyed honeymoon had taken "somewhere in Greater Boston."

HE GETS DIVORCE

His full dominion in love with the five years ago when he met her in New York, Reading, Pa., she said. "He said he was single and begged me to go to New York and marry him."

Two months later I went to New York and naturally I insisted on a regular marriage. "There's no way coming before a minister let's make it just before God." In spite of all I did or said he insisted and finally I gave in to his pleading.

I learned of his previous wife, but understood her to be dead. In 1921 I found out there had been no divorce, but this was revealed the following year when a divorce was granted.

When he was in financial straits early in our acquaintance, I gave him $100. He bought some property here in Tennessee to protect the loan. The KKK had fashioned after the London club of that name, and the property was seized by both of us as man and wife.

"SEND WEDDING PANTS"

This wedding pants and I had to pay his hotel bill in Nashville. We returned to New York, to an apartment in West 23d st., and everything was all right until last Monday night.

Miss O'Brien was brought to him for a job. He went with her from the start. He said to me, "Listen, girl, go home to your mother, she's a big blue blower." An argument followed and he took the things from me and she went. I was angry.

The next day I saw Marietta O'Brien's photograph in four columns wide and an announcement of her engagement. Then what did Jakob do but phone over from Boston to tell me his wife had died and he was coming to New York.

"If he says I am just after money, it's not true, for I came here to defend my honor. He has ruined my social standing in New York and I cannot marry him. My relatives and parents. All I want him to do is to acknowledge me as his non-law wife."

Jakob has denied her claims, although admitting he knew her and lived in the same house. He accused her of dining frequently with another man who, according to the girl who claims to be Mrs. Jakob, was nothing but a "yes man" for the producer.

A car went to home. Mrs. Jakob was in the West End. That's the way to it.

BIG TREE IN BACK BAY

AN INSPIRING SIGHT AT NIGHT
This big tree, which is 50 feet high, stands in the corner of the parking space of Sears, Roebuck and Co. at Brookline ave. and Audubon rd. Hundreds of varicolored lights make it an inspiring sight at night. Gertrude Davis of Jamaica Plain is using the mirror in one of the novel decorations to good advantage.

FATHER OF LEVINE IN RUM PLOT

There are hundreds of pitiful cases.

Paris, Dec. 15 (INS)—Raphaë Aron, distinguished caricaturist, and his wife, Germaine Tailleferre, beautiful pianist and composer, who were married in Greenwich, Ct. two years ago, are the latest converts to the cause of companionate marriage. The couple, who had been living in New York, have just announced to live in the French capital and will see each other from only 50 miles.

Karlton, who was married three years ago, is a member of the so-called companionate union to be the ideal wedded life.

Policeman and Rich Woman Die in Plunge

New York, Dec. 15 (INS)—A death of a policeman and a married woman, who had been living in a companionate union, was reported today.

Harold A. T. Lofsky, 36, a policeman, and his wife, a wealthy widow, of New York, died in a plunge from the top of the Empire State Building.

The body of the policeman was found in the Hudson River.

Before playing from Dummy to the King of Hearts led by West, Declarer notes that he can in all probability make all of his Diamonds and Clubs; and that there with the Ace of Spades and Ace of Hearts assure a small Slam. Apparently the only trick possible for the adversaries is one in the Heart suit. Declarer determines to attempt to prevent the loss of even the one trick.

Jannings to Make 2 More Films in U.S.

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12.—Emil Jannings, so a very well authenticated report says, returns to Germany at the expiration of his contract with Fox-Play-Lasky. His contract will not be renewed and there are two more pictures, one which goes into production immediately and one which is scheduled for March.

Just of these are to be silent. And since silent pictures these days are a rare sight, one naturally comes to the conclusion that the tall tale has been Jannings' Waterloo. He can make talkies in Germany, for he speaks German fluently and English fluently, as much so that even a German accent in a picture in which he played would be hard to understand. He is one of the screen's best actors, and it is no wonder that he has no reason to believe that he will be conquered by the new mechanical device.

Neither Jannings, who has not made a talkie, also need not worry about voice in the Jannings picture, for all said need do is to himself. What a difference these talkies do make. Formerly, by the way, he will only make three more silent dramas, the two Jannings pictures and a Hans Gray Western.

JOSEPH SHIELDS, who slipped into the hospital and out again, leaving his apartment before anyone realized what had happened, came home to find some cheerful news. He has been loaned to Fox by the Universal to be one of the featured players in "Through Different Eyes," William Stillman's adaptation of the novel by John Galsworthy.

It's a grand cast Shields has assembled for this Fox special for only in there you can see a picture that has been made by a man who has been in the picture business for more than 20 years and who has been in the picture business for more than 20 years and who has been in the picture business for more than 20 years.

Through Different Eyes" has a long history. It was written for a stage play three years ago and through some trials and tribulations brought to the stage. Willingford Brinley, who wrote the play, was in the dramatic courtroom play a story that would go great in sound pictures. Hence, the picture and hence the elaborate plan.

There two little love birds, Sue Carol and Nick, are to be co-starring in a Fox special, "Gloria Gwynn." You can just hand on Willingford Brinley to take

The Taxbill of ONE Cotton Textile Corporation

While the cotton textile industry the world around remains upon the ailing list, the constant care of industrial physicians, the men at the head of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company continue to find employment for 11,000 workers.

The Amoskeag is the world's largest corporation in its field. Only a week or two ago, the company paid a tax of $700,171 and, regardless of trade conditions, paid it without a whimper. Middle-aged residents of Manchester, N. H., must recall a happy time when that amount of money would have paid every municipal charge.

To representatives of the company's employees, Col. W. Parker Straw, visible head of the organization in his home town, has explained why their request for a 5 1/2 per cent increase in wages is out of the question at this time.

"There is a healthy demand for our goods," Agent Straw said, "but it is a demand which must be met by immediate delivery. In order to get these orders we are compelled to take a very small margin of profit and get the goods out speedily."

As an illustration of the contest for markets which is constantly going on the head of the operating forces told of a recent instance where an important competitor suddenly lowered its prices "by considerable margins." Amoskeag was compelled to follow suit.

In December, one year ago, the company reduced wages 10 per cent. The recent request for an increase was not unexpected. But to put into effect an advance of 5 1/2 per cent, Col. Straw advised, would mean that the company would have to jump the selling price of its product an average of 2 per cent. To do this might seriously affect Amoskeag's present favorable position in the market, and "wipe out the good that has been accomplished."

The Amoskeag, the agent reported, is "rounding the corner, getting back into its stride." Many textile organizations have gone down, practically all have curtailed their operations.

"We do not know what the future holds for the industry as a whole, but so far as Amoskeag is concerned I believe better times are in store."

Taken into the confidence of the management in this way, the representatives of 11,000 textile workers met their own motion voted to lay the request for a wage increase "on the table."

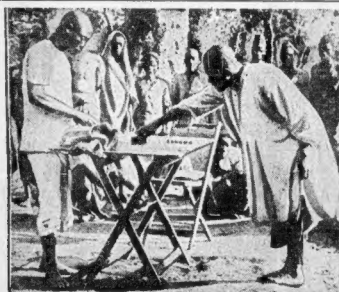

We do not know ALL that was said at this meeting, but enough has been given to the press, by a committee appointed for that purpose, to suggest that the Manchester method of occasional conferences between officials and employees, "cards on the table," is likely to have happier results than the take-it-or-leave-it policy which has been the vogue in other textile towns.

The Amoskeag and its people are deserving of such success as may speedily bring about a restoration of the cut of 1927.

Both sides know that this cannot be achieved unless, or until, the company gets a closer and firmer grip on a capacious and whimsical market.

Black Man's Magic

It Satisfies and Pleases Him

THE WITCH DOCTOR READS THE OMENS

Lenin's wizard foretells the future of the human race, when the feet shall rule the head, when Communism reigns and selfish motives that have carried human beings toward progress thus far give way to altruism.

An interesting contrast to her teachings is this little picture of the witch doctor in Uganda, reading the omen by sorting out small bones and other objects.

The Prince of Wales recently saw this performance and was interested, as well he might be.

The witch doctor can't exactly tell his dark friends how to get rid of British control and keep for themselves the wealth that they produce.

That would take more than a witch doctor. It would take a completely new kind of brain in the Uganda people to do that.

But a witch doctor appeals to the imagination, makes it unnecessary for you to THINK, and says that all you need do is BELIEVE.

And that suits his black friends in Uganda admirably.

The wind is tempered to the shorn lamb; an intellectual effort is tempered to the degree of intellect.

Perhaps this witch doctor, telling what is going to happen by examining little bones, is about as accurate on the whole as the devoted and sincere widow of Lenin telling the peasants of Russia what is going to happen according to her ideas.

Since They Steal Manhole Covers

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

THE text of this article is, "BLESSED ARE THEY THAT SHALL INHERIT THE EARTH."

No, it isn't going to be a religious treatise, far from it. It will be the frank statement of a selfish, quackish human being who has come to recognize the virtues of meanness.

If any one had told me in my youth that I would ever see any virtue in meanness I would candidly have replied that they were cuckoo, Nutty. Completely scrambled.

My left is considerable, and my disposition even more so. And this life here having my own way; one look at me and most people let me have it without a dissenting murmur.

From which you may gather that meanness was, to me, the lowest, most abject form of human behavior. And of all sap-venom that betrays the weak, the most contemptible was the sap-venom.

Thus I thought and forth I went into life with a chip on my shoulder and a wallop in my fist, looking for a fight. And finding 'em plenty and pronto. Which was great stuff as long as I was young and satisfied with fighting. But after a time my perception widened. Others, I saw, were achieving power by methods entirely different.

The Vestris Sinks Daily

by Herbert Kaufman

The loose screw detective wasn't on deck when the Vestris sailed for Davy Jones' locker. Chalk another score for carelessness. Somebody again took something for granted, and a hundred odd lives pay the piper.

The old, old story of the chain and the weak link.

One more case of the sleeping sentry, alias dozing watchman and recreant inspection. Take it to heart and to the office. And while you're anathematizing duty's traitors, remember that "there, but by the grace of God, went you."

Within a week the tragedy will be generally forgotten for some other sensation and we'll all be back at our fixed habit of postponing important letters, neglecting to sterilize surgical instruments, disregarding traffic signals, and overlooking missing rivets.

The usual average of commas will be omitted from legal documents, the customary number of children will be killed by speeding cars and the calculated ratio of accounts lost through misdirected shipments.

A track-walker won't see a sprung rail, an engineer will run past a danger signal, and a smart Aleck will somewhere shoot his friend with an "unloaded" gun.

An apoplectic man will delay his last insurance payment, eat a last dish of pig's knuckles and sauerkraut, play a last round of golf, and leave a family dependent upon his last week's salary.

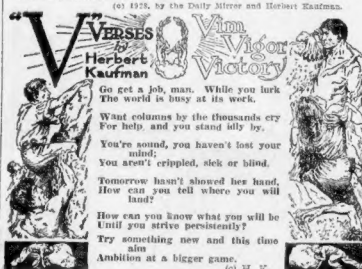

A railroad gateman will snooze in his shanty, fail to hear the signal bell and be ever after haunted by a mangled carload of school children.

Goodenough, Don't give damn & Co., the world's leading promoters of bankruptcy and failure, will continue to do business as usual at the old stand.

The news will cast its wire nets and collect tidings of disaster and wreckage from Dan to Beersheba.

And every dispatch will trace fire, calamity, epidemic and collision to trifling neglect.

The Vestris sinks every day. And always for the same reason.

National Policies of the Hearst Papers

1. An agreement of English-speaking peoples to preserve peace among themselves and promote the peace of the world.
2. A constitutional amendment to provide for the election of United States Senators in numbers proportionate to the population of each State, but no State to have less than two Senators. A reappointment of Congressional representatives immediately after every census, or in case of the failure of Congress so to act, to make the apportionment automatic at the end of the first Congressional session, the proportion of population for each representative in each case to be that of the existing Congress.
3. A separate Department of the Army, of the Navy and of the Air Force, all united under a Secretary of National Defense.
4. Federal action to the limit of Federal Government powers to abolish literacy among the people of the United States, and the creation of a Secretary of Education.
5. Necessary measures to secure the election of Congress in November and its installation on the 1st of January following, and the inauguration of a President on the 1st of January immediately following his election in November.
